Inside drawers – matching the latest trends

The new, high-quality front panel connectors for inside drawers and inside pot-and-pan drawers in stainless-steel effect and aluminium effect are also shown to create highlights. Combined with inside front panels made of glass you get a high-class design.

„TopSides“ in steel, translucent plastic or glass as well as the entire range of interior organisational elements can be used throughout. This provides attractive and convenient design options that add a mark of distinction to that particular kitchen style. This gives manufacturers and retailers plenty of scope to stand apart from the competition.
