

SieMatic shows Easys Compact from Hettich for the first time

Deluxe handleless opening for refrigerators

The high quality kitchens from SieMatic Möbelwerke GmbH & Co. KG (www.siematic.com) place a particular focus on design quality and user convenience. The new Easys Compact electromechanical door opening system from Hettich will also be making its debut at the manufacturer's in-house exhibition from 17 to 22 September 2022 in Löhne.

Carl-Heinrich Moning, technical developer at SieMatic: "Easys Compact is the perfect door opener for providing end to end handleless design in our kitchens. The new system enables us to combine our high design standards with noticeably more user convenience from the refrigerator." Easys Compact demonstrates its strengths in everyday practice: the system reliably and safely opens every refrigerator door; providing strong opening forces, a single unit is sufficient even for heavy doors. The pressure sensor can be positioned at any chosen height – convenience for all refrigerator users no matter how tall and of any age.

SieMatic is presenting Easys Compact in a Gaggenau refrigerator. But the slimline unit can also be used in most other refrigerators. Because Easys Compact uses the predefined holes provided directly on the refrigerator and also comes with an intuitive plug connection. This rules out installation mistakes and makes fast work of fitting the system. As Easys Compact is mounted independently of the carcass, it is even possible to use standard carcasses. Activated via an interface, smart voice control can, of
