

HoutPro+: Hettich Presents Product Highlights

Focus on Transforming Furniture and Spaces

“Transforming Spaces – with innovative motion”: Hettich will be demonstrating at booth 6440 how interior design companies and furniture manufacturers can benefit from this promising theme at HoutPro+, taking place from November 4 to 7 in 's-Hertogenbosch, the Netherlands. The fittings specialist will be presenting a wealth of ideas for transformable furniture design and innovative storage solutions featuring its turning and swivelling FurnSpin system. In addition, Hettich will be showcasing its latest product innovations.

For Mark Bomer, Hettich's Regional Sales Manager for Belgium and the Netherlands, HoutPro+ is a particular highlight: “We're looking forward to sharing ideas on reconfiguring spaces with existing and prospective Hettich users. Working with Hettich provides all kinds of ways and products to achieve this,” he explains ahead of the event. Offering huge potential for bringing transformational design to furniture and spaces, the multi-award-winning FurnSpin system allows furniture elements to rotate 180 degrees with just a swipe of the hand. As the first manufacturer to do so, Hettich has made its system scalable, enabling the integration of rotatable furniture elements in a wide variety of sizes and weight classes in kitchens, bathrooms, living spaces, and work environments. Alongside captivating and inspiring exhibits, Hettich will be showing trade visitors efficient processing techniques while also demonstrating the benefits of digital services for planning and realising furniture. innovative products play a key role by making solutions easier to assemble and install, enhancing performance, and opening up unique application possibilities.

Avosys Glass and Mirror Door Hinge:

Slimline Elegance for Kitchen, Bathroom, and Living Space

The higher the perceived quality of a glass or mirror cabinet, the more understated the door hinges should be. This is why the new Avosys from Hettich cuts a deliberately restrained figure, remaining unobtrusive on furniture. Particularly compact in design with a narrow, linear mounting plate, the fitting takes up so little space that it leaves more room for cabinet contents. A distinct benefit: Avosys can be securely bonded or screwed to glass and mirror doors. It is also suitable for screw mounting without a cup drill hole on thin, hard materials such as Corian® and HPL. Avosys makes it easy to produce glass and mirror doors with thicknesses of 3 to 8 mm, as well as custom material doors of 10 to 12 mm. Fast, clip-on installation makes the hinge easy to fit.

SAH 500 – Heavy-Duty Cabinet Suspension Bracket:

Making Heavy Wall-Mounted Furniture Appear to Float

The newly developed heavy-duty SAH 500 cabinet suspension bracket from Hettich is the ideal choice for weighty wall-mounted furniture in kitchens, bathrooms, and living spaces. The wider and deeper wall-mounted furniture becomes, the heavier it gets — and such loads soon exceed the limits of conventional cabinet suspension brackets. The SAH 500 keeps heavy furniture securely fixed to the wall. Tested to the hardware standard EN 15939, the bracket can achieve load capacities of up to 110 kg per unit. What's more, the SAH 500 is extremely slim, process-efficient, and easy to install. Even in confined mounting spaces within the cabinet body, drawers move past the system without collisions.

Evisys Guiding Hinge:

High Load-Bearing Performance for Bold Kitchen Design

Positioned in the top door section, Evisys provides the necessary opening and closing stability for heavy, extra-tall cabinet doors in front of built-in refrigerators. Combined with Hettich's fixed door hinges, it now allows the installation of doors weighing up to 80 kg — an impressive 10 kg more than before. This means users can load their refrigerator doors more heavily while keeping reveals perfectly aligned. Featuring an integrated Silent System, Evisys also ensures softer and quieter closing.

Upgrade for AvanTech YOU "Illumination":

Lighting Mood on Furniture in Extra Warm White

The new generation of the system, which can also be used for wooden drawers, is now even easier to install. Requiring no magnets, the LED system can be positioned anywhere on the drawer, making it easy to retrofit on existing ones. Another new feature is the option to change the light colour: depending on preference, the colour temperature can be adjusted between extra warm white (2,700 K) and neutral white (4,000 K). The new fast-charging function enables convenient USB-C battery charging.

These and many other Hettich product highlights can be experienced first-hand at HoutPro+.
